MANITOBA IS APPEALING ON FREIGHT RATES

Federal Government Asked to Suspend Commission's Crow's Nest Ruling

Alberta and Saskatchewan
Expected to Support Move of Manitoba

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—Manitoba is appealing to the Governor-in-Council for suspension of the order of the Railway Commission cancelling the Crow's Nest Pass Freight Rate Agreement. This decision was reached after a prolonged session of the Provincial Cabinet this morning. The action to be taken by the Government has been communicated to the Alberta and Saskatchewan Governments with a view to bringing about concerted action in the matter. A statement which had the unanimous endorsement of the Executive Council, issued by Premier Bracken this afternoon, declared the Government would "take immediate action to the full limit of its powers against the heavy burden of injustice which the majority decision of the Commission, if it were allowed to come into operation, would fasten upon the backs of the people of Western Canada."

WITHOUT DELAY
The Government, it was added, would appeal without delay to the Governor-General-in-Council against the commission's decision and would ask that, pending hearing of the appeal, the operation of the commission's order be suspended. If the Federal Government took the view that the appeal should be made to the highest judicial tribunal, then the Government of Manitoba would ask that, pending judicial pronouncement, the order be suspended from operation. The statement added that it was asked that it be ordered further that "the railways shall forthwith remove any discrimination now in operation by reason of the rate schedules bearing date July 7, 1924."

Chinese Fascisti Lost Two-
Day Battle in Streets, According to Report

Large Number Lost Lives;
Damage by Fire Estimated at $7,000,000

Hongkong, Oct. 15.—A conflagration in Canton which resulted from hostilities between the Merchants' Volunteer Corps and the armed forces of the "Red Army" burned all day Wednesday, but was brought under control to-day after a large number of persons had been killed or burned to death and damage totalling an estimated loss of $7,000,000 had been done.

Hongkong, Oct. 15.—The Merchants' Volunteer Corps, known as the Chinese Fascisti, was defeated by the "Red Army," composed of Chinese laborers, after street fighting in Canton lasting two days, according to a wireless message picked up here to-day from Canton by naval authorities. The messages, received by the British authorities, said the Merchants' Volunteers had been defeated by the Chinese Reds, who were said in dispatches yesterday to be starting the fires.

New Zealand Will Not Arbitrate Question of Japanese Immigration

Wellington, N.Z., Oct. 16.—Premier Massey, replying to a question in the House of Assembly to-day on the success of Japan's efforts to alter the League of Nations protocol on arbitration and security in connection with submission to the League disputes arising from internal domestic questions of the various nations, declared:
"We are not going to arbitrate. We simply say they can not come here unless we give permission. League of Nations or no League of Nations. That is the law of our country and we will stand by it."

Flour Prices at New High Level In United States

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 16.—With an advance to-day of twenty-five cents a barrel on family patents by one of the large milling companies here, flour prices ascended to the highest levels in several years. On the heels of yesterday's increased cash wheat quotations, millers raised the range of flour prices for the best grades of flour from $8.25 to $8.45 a barrel when in carlots.

FORCE OF 10,000 IS PROTECTING FOREIGN SECTION OF SHANGHAI WHILE ARMED CHINESE ARE NEAR

Shanghai, Oct. 16.—Concentration of leaderless armed troops of the recently conflicting armies in the immediate environs of Shanghai led to fears in the foreign settlement to-day of another armed clash.

The settlement guards reported, however, that they were prepared to cope with any emergency, and settlement authorities expressed themselves as confident that the settlement would not be in danger.

Twenty-five thousand armed men, representing the armies of Kiangsu, Hupeh, Fukien and Chekiang provinces, lately engaged in battle for possession of Shanghai, were estimated to-day to be ranging about those sections of the city adjoining the foreign concession. Most of the soldiers are without leaders.

LIPSTICKS CAUSE MUCH INDIGESTION NOW IN GERMANY

Leipzig, Germany, Oct. 16.—Lipstick indigestion has developed here among young women who use rouge too freely, according to physicians. Many of the cosmetics, particularly the cheaper kinds, assert the doctors, contain harmful ingredients which cause complications when they come in contact with food.

Victims of the lipstick attack always maintain that their illness has been caused by food or drink and are not inclined to change their habits unless they have suffered three or four severe seizures after dining in restaurants where they have applied an unusual amount of red in endeavors to look their best.

MAN ARRESTED IN KANSAS CITY MAY BE B. PURNELL

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 16.—Police here to-day arrested a man calling himself "Jesus Christ Revolted," and are investigating the possibility that he may be Benjamin Purnell, missing head of the House of David. With him were arrested three white women, three negro women and one negro man. In the man's pockets were found a clipping telling of Purnell's practices. Purnell was wanted by the State of Michigan for alleged immoral relations with girls members of the House of David Colony at Denton Harbor and on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences.

CITY OF LONDON
There will not be a Liberal candidate for either of the City of London seats. The London Liberal Association has reconsidered its recent decision to put candidates in the two ridings against the Conservatives and has concluded not to do so.

E. C. Grenfell and Sir Thomas Bowater were the Conservative members for the City of London in the late Parliament. (Concluded on page 2)

Dutch Draining Biesbosch Area To Make Farms

The Hague, Oct. 16.—Besides draining the Zuider Zee, the Dutch are preparing to undertake another great land reclamation project, namely, the conversion of the Biesbosch district into arable land. The Biesbosch (reed forest) has remained in a semi-flooded condition since the great disaster of 1421, when a tidal wave swept over it. Thousands of people perished, seventy-two towns and villages were destroyed and the city of Dordrecht was torn from the mainland. The district now is a labyrinth of small watercourses.

PREMIER MACKENZIE KING HERE TO GET WESTERN VIEWPOINT ON BIG ISSUES FACING DOMINION

PREMIER KING AT TWO MEETINGS IN VICTORIA FRIDAY

Besides making a tour of the public works in Victoria to-morrow Premier Mackenzie King will address two meetings in the city. At noon he will address a luncheon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce under the auspices of the Victoria Liberal Association. Ladies are invited to join the men at the luncheon. In the evening he will address the mass meeting at the Armories on Bay Street, where complete arrangements have been made to accommodate the vast crowd anticipated. Commencing at 7.30 the Fifth Regiment band will play the following programme as the crowd assembles: Overture, "Morning, Noon and Night" (Supper); selection, "Tonight's the Night" (Morton); medley of Plantation Songs; grand fantasia, patriotic airs of all nations, ending with "The Maple Leaf"; march, "Our Glorious Flag" (King). Sidney Rogers will conduct.

KING LEARNS B.C. RATE VIEWS; BIG REVISION URGED

Complete Readjustment Needed Now, Oliver Tells
Federal Government Head

Wants Freight Tariffs Rebuilt From Bottom up on Basis of Equity

Premier Oliver will endeavor to explain his Government's views on the freight rate problem to Premier Mackenzie King during his visit here. Mr. Oliver intimated this morning that one of the chief matters which he desired to take up with the head of the Federal Government was the present chaotic freight rate situation resulting from the sudden action of the Railway Board of scrapping the Crow's Nest Pass Rate Agreement.

Mr. Oliver will tell Mr. King that this Province feels that the only solution of the present rate problem is a complete and far-reaching revision of the whole western rate structure. "Nothing less than this will give all Canada equity and equal opportunity," Mr. Oliver declared to-day. "The present situation satisfies no one West of the Great Lakes. By the scrapping of the Crow's Nest Agreement the prairies lose the advantage of the low rates on which goods have been travelling westward in the past and British Columbia is not satisfied because the general rate discrimination against this Province, against which we have been fighting for years, still remains."

New Ministry Is to be Formed In Jugo-Slavia

Canada's Premier Accorded Memorable Ovation as He Reaches Victoria At End of Island Tour; Visit to the West, He Tells Interviewer, Has Given Him Wonderful Insight Into the Country; Striving for Unity That Will Speed Canada in the March of Progress

Victoria this afternoon extended a welcome which was as cordial as it was enthusiastic to the Rt. Hon. W. Lyon Mackenzie King, the Prime Minister of Canada, under whose masterly leadership Canada has been guided in that critical period of its history when with heavy obligations of a long and expensive war it has re-established itself until its status is now placed ahead of any other country in its recovery from inevitable post-war conditions. The Premier and his party, which included Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works; Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. H. B. McGivern, minister without portfolio, and Senator Andrew Haydon, this morning motored from Nanaimo where, as early as 9 o'clock, the Premier was actively living up to the objective of his tour—to study the West first-hand and meet the people of the West—by meeting a delegation of miners.

PREMIER KING MAKES EARLY MORNING START

Received Delegations at Nanaimo at 9 o'clock;
Meeting at 9.30

Premier Mackenzie King was busy in Nanaimo by 9 o'clock this morning. A deputation from the Miners' Union waited upon the Premier at that hour. They were followed by a delegation of the Local Council of Women. By 9.30 the Premier was on the platform at a public meeting.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was held at the Odd Fellows' Hall, and in the course of his remarks the Premier stated the object of the tour was to obtain better acquaintances with the problems of the Dominion. Only those who traveled extensively could appreciate the tremendous difficulties of administration of the whole western rate structure. Canada to this city, a city of which the citizens are justly proud for innumerable reasons, the chief probably being the lavish way in which nature has bestowed its beauties upon it. I feel sure I am voicing the sentiments of the whole of the citizens when I express the hope that your short stay among us will be a most pleasant and enjoyable one.

"We all realize that the long journey that you have taken across the continent, addressing many audiences at various points, has been an arduous one, and we hope that the information that you have gained since leaving Ottawa will be of considerable value to you and your Government in the task of legislating to the best interests of the various sections of the Dominion of Canada."

Many up-Island Liberals and others traveling with the Premier's party arrived here from Nanaimo to-day on H. M. C. S. Patricia.

GIRL SWALLOWED METAL OBJECTS; IS CURED BY DOCTORS

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 16.—Mary Doe, the fifteen-year-old girl in whose stomach physicians last month found 2,500 metallic objects, including coins, metal washers, safety pins, crucifixes, charms, brooches and bolts, was discharged last night from the hospital here. Her physicians say she is completely recovered. Intelligence tests to which the girl has been subjected show, according to her physicians, that she now is of wholly normal mentality.

Explorers Tell of Great Mineral Wealth in Far North Canadian Islands

Quebec, Oct. 16.—Confirmation of the statement made by Captain J. E. Bernier and his associates that almost limitless mineral wealth was to be found on the islands of the North was given by Captain John Murray, who arrived here yesterday from Wakeham Bay, Hudson Strait, in command of the Nova Scotia auxiliary schooner Albert Revillon, which took supplies to the Revillon Freres trading posts. He was convinced that sooner or later the Canadian Government would see fit to send an expedition north, equipped with every possible facility to make a real study of its mineral potentialities.

PREMIER KING MAKES EARLY MORNING START

GOVERNMENT RECEPTION
This afternoon a reception at the Parliament Buildings by Premier John Oliver and his Cabinet was given to Premier King from 3.30 until 5 o'clock. This evening he will be the guest of Lieutenant-Governor Walter Nichol at Government House.

FRIDAY'S MEETINGS
Friday noon he will speak at a banquet under the auspices of the Victoria Liberal Association at the Chamber of Commerce to which the ladies are invited. During the afternoon he will inspect the public works in Victoria including the Esquimalt Drydock and the outer wharves. The mass meeting in the Armories will start at 8.15 in the evening and the strenuous day will not end until he leaves for Vancouver on the midnight boat.

Interviewed by a Times reporter at Nanaimo Premier King outlined the object of the tour, dealt at length on the Government's policies, Canada's wonderful recovery from the serious financial situation with which it was confronted but above all emphasized that he made the journey to the Coast because he recognized the fundamental necessity of learning at first hand western views on transportation, marine development and immigration. "I am delighted to return to British Columbia after four years, and particularly to visit Vancouver Island," he said.

Last night at Cumberland he had a warm welcome from the miners after an interval of twenty years, not having been in the Comox coal field since called there by an industrial dispute when he was Deputy Minister of Labor.

"Comox and Courtenay have grown out of recognition since my last visit," he remarked.

AT FIRST HAND
"This tour is designed not for the purpose of political propaganda but as head of the Administration to place the policies of the Government before the country from a Liberal standpoint. We recognize the fundamental necessity of learning at first hand the Western view on transportation, marine development and immigration. This policy has been the central thought of my speeches in Winnipeg, Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Edmonton, where the Ministerial party has received the most hearty welcome."

Answering the question as to whether the tour would be repeated next Fall in case of dissolution after next session, the Premier said he could not commit himself, but he would certainly try to return to British Columbia, of which he had so many pleasant memories, whenever possible. The present tour had convinced the Ministers of the remarkable progress of the British Columbia Coast and of the necessity of every attention to its problems. The Premier said he found the pessimism with regard to the Western crops not justified so far as the northern section of the prairie provinces was concerned. There was a general spirit of optimism prevailing along the Canadian National Railways line. The Minister of Marine, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, on his first ministerial visit to the Coast, had been great pleased with the activities all along the Coast.

NEEDS OF WEST
Emphasizing the main object of his tour, Mr. King stated: "There are many things the Government would like to see the West get. There are many things which the East wants which I believe the people of the West would like to see the East get. Financial conditions make it impossible for us to do these things as quickly as we would like. The object of this tour is to obtain first hand information on the needs of the West and to explain to the West some of the difficulties with which the Government is confronted."

"What we want to-day," said the Premier, "is not so much criticism in our public life as interpretation and understanding of difficulties. As we begin to understand the difficulties which others are confronted and view them sympathetically we will very quickly come to be a more united people."

To drive home his point, Premier King entered upon a lucid and concise exposition of Canada's fight to re-establish itself after participation in a long and expensive war. He clearly expounded how before it could begin to provide for current undertakings the Government must look after the national debt and war obligations.

SURPLUS NOW
"From the first the Government has been trying to get the public accounts to balance," he said. "At the end of the first year we were able to secure a reduction of something like $50,000,000 on the public debt. During the last year, for the first time in ten years, we were able not only to balance the budget but to have a surplus of something like $30,000,000. These are but the first fruits of what has been done by the administration."

WESTERN REPRESENTATION
That Western Canada should have a larger representation in the Cabinet was one of the opinions expressed by Mr. King in again speaking of the West. "You know," he said, "Western Canada did not send us very many Liberals, but we were grateful for the gentlemen it did send to support us. Unfortunately, one province, Alberta, did not send us anyone at all. However, Alberta is represented in the Government to-day by a gentleman who was the premier of that province, and who, I think knows its affairs as well as any man in Canada. Saskatchewan was a little better, for it gave us one, our good friend Mr.

Motherwell, and he is the Minister of Agriculture. Manitoba sent us Mr. McMurray, and he was included in the cabinet. British Columbia is represented by Dr. J. H. King. I believe that from western Canada there must be a larger representation in the cabinet."

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE
Going on to discuss the difficulties which beset the Government following war, Premier King recalled the Imperial Conference he attended at Downing Street, and stated that of the six or seven governments represented there, the government of Mr. Baldwin had been succeeded by that of Ramsay MacDonald; in South Africa, the government of Mr. Smuts had been succeeded by that of Mr. Hertzog; and in Newfoundland another administration had taken office.

"Possibly," said the Premier, "the greatest compliment that could be paid to Canada was the general acclaim with which my announcement was received, that there would be no election this Fall. No one seemed to desire to have an election unless those who complained that the changes we made in the tariff were shutting out factories. Well, you can shut out factories for a week or a month and make that appear a lot, but you have to think twice before you shut out factories for a year or two years in order to produce a partisan effect. We intend to let the people of Canada know what has been the effect of the tariff changes, and let them be judges as to the wisdom of the course we have taken."

"If Canada needs a change for its development, it needs a progressive Liberal policy. I think that the greatest misfortune that could come to this country would be to let the reactionary forces take control, particularly when the country promises to be coming into its own in the matter of Liberal policies and Liberal points of view. It does not make the work of the administration any easier to have things as they are. I believe it would be much better for Canada if we had the Liberal and Progressive forces as one, and if the causes they had in common were advocated from one end of Canada to the other."

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY

Regarding the Hudson's Bay Railway, Mr. King said: "I believe that if such a bill were brought before Parliament, it would not pass the Senate at the present time. For that reason, I don't intend to say that the present administration is going to bring in a bill for the immediate completion of that undertaking. If for one believes that there is great merit in the Hudson Bay Railway, I believe there is great merit in that project if only as a colonization road and as a means of developing the resources of the northern country, and I believe that if the road is completed as far as the bay we will see it serve a useful purpose."

SENATE REFORM

Referring to how the Senate had dealt with the national railway's branch line programme, led the Premier to express himself on the necessity for Senate reform. "If it is possible at all to amend the constitution of the Senate so as to bring about a reform similar to that made in the Old Land when the Tory House of Lords used to throw out Liberal measures, we intend to effect that reform. We believe there is a place for the second chamber, but we do not think it should be used to defeat the will of the people when that will has been made evident by the actions of the people's representatives in the Commons on three separate occasions."

Aviator Fell in Mountains; Killed

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—Dick Kerwood, a stunt aviator, was killed yesterday in a crash landing near Newhall, northwest of here, when he fell about 500 feet from a ladder dangling from an aeroplane. He was not missed by the pilot until the plane was ready to fly before a camera.

"It may be, but I do not think it will, that in some constituencies the combination of Liberals and Tories may have for the moment the same effect as the combination has in the House of Commons. I will make a present to them of the victories they are going to have under that condition. The victory which has been achieved in the House of Commons is not going to settle the fate of a party unless it is a ramshackle party without root or foundation. We can go down. We have been down before. The Labor Party has been ousted for the moment by unholy combinations. We may lose a seat here and there, but I mistake nature very much if the manifestations of enthusiasm I have seen in the last two days mean a mere passing notion or a superficial state of public opinion."

Premier MacDonald announced that one of the conditions of the Russian loan would be that no military expenditure should be covered by the loan.

SUPPORTING CONSERVATIVES
The licensed liquor trade of Great Britain has resolved to support the Conservatives in the election on the ground that the Conservative Party can be trusted to equitably safeguard the interests of the trade and preserve the right of the people to use alcoholic liquor with reasonable freedom and moderation.

There is no sign of temperance being a live question in the contest. The Labor Party as a whole has never shown any eagerness to place further restrictions on the liquor business.

AMERY OPPOSED
Lieut.-Col. L. C. Amery, who was a member of the Baldwin Government, and who in the last election achieved the distinction rare among Conservatives of being returned by an increased majority, is again to be opposed in the Sparbrook division of Birmingham by a Liberal and a Labor candidate.

E. W. Strachey, son of John S. Strachey, editor of The Spectator, will endeavor as a Labor candidate to eliminate Sir Evelyn Cecil's 6,000 majority in the Easton division of Birmingham.

INSURANCE MEN OPEN CONVENTION HERE, WITH BALL

Business Sessions of New York Life Agents Start To-morrow

A ball at the Empress Hotel to-night will be the opening function of the convention of the New York Life Insurance Company which will bring 100 delegates from the western district to Victoria.

Life insurance men arrived in the city to-day from points in British Columbia, Washington, Idaho and the Yukon, and the first business session will be held at the Empress Hotel at 9.30 Friday morning. Meetings will also be held Saturday, Alex. Peelen, Victoria representative of the company, has made arrangements for the meetings in Victoria. Some of the local policy holders will join the agents at the ball to-night and Mr. Peelen requests that guests present their invitations at the door.

BANQUET
The convention banquet will be held at the Empress Hotel at 7 o'clock to-morrow night. Thomas A. Buckner of New York, vice-president of the company; Dr. O. M. Rogers of New York, chief of the medical department; A. W. Newman of Montana; John W. Day of California; and A. S. Elford will be the principal speakers at the banquet. A farewell luncheon at the Empress Hotel on Saturday will bring the convention to a close.

KING LEARNS B.C.
RATE VIEWS; BIG REVISION URGED

NEW RATE STRUCTURE

The only satisfactory, the only just way to handle the present situation is to get to the bottom of the matter by building up an entirely new rate structure, based on the cost of transportation and a reasonable profit for the railway companies according to service rendered. All enactments and regulations giving one part of the country an unfair advantage over another part should be swept aside, and the new rate tariffs developed so as to grant equal opportunity for every part of the country.

The appeal of the prairie provinces against the abolition of the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement probably will go to the Supreme Court of Canada for settlement as it is largely a legal matter, in the opinion of the British Columbia Government. It is thought unlikely that the Canadian Privy Council will care to rule on it.

Sir Hamar Greenwood's chances of election in East Walthamptone, where he is an anti-Socialist and Constitutionalist candidate, are jeopardized by the presence of a strong Liberal opponent whose candidature if persisted in will probably elect the Labor candidate. Sir Hamar is a Liberal.

C. Atchison, a well known King's counsel, is likely to be the Labor candidate in South Edinburgh. Atchison made an unsuccessful run in South Edinburgh last year as a Liberal.

COMBINATION NOT FEARED

Addressing 5,000 electors yesterday in one of Manchester's largest auditoriums and thousands outside the hall by means of loud speakers, Premier MacDonald said that the Liberal did not fear the proposed combination of Liberals and Conservatives in various constituencies in order to poll the strongest possible anti-Labor vote.

"It may be, but I do not think it will, that in some constituencies the combination of Liberals and Tories may have for the moment the same effect as the combination has in the House of Commons. I will make a present to them of the victories they are going to have under that condition. The victory which has been achieved in the House of Commons is not going to settle the fate of a party unless it is a ramshackle party without root or foundation. We can go down. ## "But, DOROTHY, salad forks go on the INSIDE!"

DOROTHY changed the forks with a start. She resented Mary's tone of mingled surprise and reproval. But she resented more the fact that she didn't know where the salad forks went. No wonder, either. There were no salad forks at home, not bouillon spoons, nor many of the other beautiful things they used at Mary's house. Dorothy felt as though she had missed much—because her mother hadn't enough silverware.

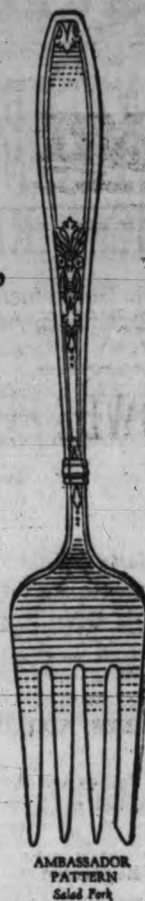

Does your silverware help your children to be so familiar with correct usage that good table manners are their natural inheritance? Perhaps not! Even now you may be "getting along" with silverware that falls short of your taste and desire because you do not realize that in 1847 Rogers Bros. Silverplate you can complete your silver service easily and at reasonable expense. And that you can provide every kind of piece you ought to have—bouillon spoons, salad forks or serving pieces—each unsurpassed in beauty and durability.

And when you need more pieces in the chosen pattern, you will be able to get them easily; for leading dealers throughout the Dominion have the newer 1847 Rogers Bros. patterns in stock.

May we send you a copy of our booklet, "Etiquette, Entertaining and Good Sense"? Its illustrations of table settings are authoritative to the last degree. You will find it full of suggestions for successful entertaining. Write for it to-day. Meriden Britannia Co., Limited, Hamilton, Ontario.

THE PRIME MINISTER

WHEN THE PRIME Minister of Canada arrives in Victoria this afternoon the welcome which the people of this city will extend to him will not be qualified by party considerations. He will be recognized by Liberals and Conservatives as the head of the Government of the day and in that capacity the principal custodian of the nation's interests.

It does not follow that either Mr. King's optimistic personality or the message which he will deliver will persuade all the voters in this riding that the Party in office at Ottawa is prosecuting the most prudent policies. Some elements in the population experience no particular pleasure in interpreting the verdict of St. Antoine and Northumberland as a convincing endorsement of the programme which Mr. Meighen described all over those constituencies as the embodiment of special privilege for the West at the expense of the other half of the country. Their hesitancy to accept the broader and more liberal treatment of the affairs of the Dominion is the natural product of that restricted conception of national responsibility to which they have subscribed as supporters of the former Prime Minister.

In striking contrast with this narrower view is the enthusiastic manner in which the people have approved the accounting the Prime Minister has been giving to the country during the tour which brings him to Victoria, the cordial satisfaction with which his recital of promises kept and progress attained has been received, the optimistic predictions which his personal stocktaking of the country's needs and possibilities has encouraged him to make. Yet it is of considerable interest to note that some of the very Conservative newspapers which vigorously applauded the Senate for its action in holding up the Government's railway programme are now loudest in their condemnation of what they choose to call Mr. King's conditional promises in respect of further undertakings of a more ambitious character. Lines which the Upper Chamber considered unnecessary were glibly described by these same newspapers as political lines; projects the great cost of which naturally imposes the necessity for careful consideration by a Government already persuaded of their need are now being demanded without the slightest regard for the "burden of taxation" which their advocates consistently tell us is the result of the present Administration's spending propensities.

It is not necessary for Mr. King to become unduly concerned about the political paradox which is presented to him by these robbing Peter to pay Paul arguments. He comes to Victoria with the knowledge that during the last few weeks the policies of his Government have successfully run the gauntlet of a very intensive Conservative campaign in three severely critical constituencies. Nor is the country as a whole unmindful of the tact and judgment which the Prime Minister displayed on those two or three occasions when a species of international hysteria provoked some plain and useful talk between the members of the British family. In the consideration of these matters he found a united Canada, as well as the support of Mr. Meighen himself, while most of the more influential newspapers of Great Britain congratulated him upon his defence of the principle upon which Canadian nationhood now securely rests.

In domestic and Empire fields of statesmanship, therefore, the distinguished visitor whom Victoria cordially welcomes to-day has shown himself well equal to the task with which the people of Canada entrusted him nearly three years ago.

THE INTERURBAN

THE DECISION OF THE British Columbia Electric Railway Company to allow its interurban tracks to remain where they are until the Spring and permit of their use by a flanged-wheel motor conveyance presents a new and encouraging angle to the transportation question for the residents of the district involved to consider. It may not be feasible for the company to give anything in the nature of a guarantee that the successful operation of a restricted service of this nature could be regarded as permanent; its tracks are valuable property and would not doubt be required for use in some other part of the street railway system; at the same time the suspension of the original decision and the inauguration of a skeleton Winter schedule would afford an opportunity for a careful re-examination of the whole problem.

In any case Mr. Goward's proposal will now enable the Saanich Council to take the question under advisement from a new standpoint, its terms clearly indicating the desire of the company to meet its patrons in as liberal a manner as the more exacting economic considerations will permit.

A FINE FLIGHT

UNDER ANYTHING BUT favorable weather conditions two British aviators made the journey from Canada to Ireland in a non-stop flight in a little more than sixteen hours. No sooner had the world got its breath after this marvelous accomplishment than the giant R-34 performed the journey from England to New York and back without accident. All this was five years ago.

In a fraction over eighty-one hours the German-built rigid airship ZR-3 has now flown the 5,000 miles which separate Friedrichshafen from its New Jersey mooring mast. More than 125 dirigibles of this type have been turned out at the Zeppelin works since their inventor showed his second airship to the world at the aeronautical exhibition at Frankfurt on the Main five years ago.

It may be some time before the vessels which ply the regular steamship lanes will experience serious competition from above; but the comfort in which this journey was made once more lends emphasis to the great possibilities which the future holds out to aeronautical research.

Fortune favored the giant craft in the shape of good weather—still a highly important factor in aerial navigation—and the excellent time made across the Atlantic indicates what may be accomplished by lighter-than-air machines when the elements are kind.

A severe electrical storm, of course, prevented the R-34 from making anything like as good time as the ZR-3, her battle with threatening conditions off the American coast consuming almost as much time as she took for the actual water flight itself. Still she rode out of it serenely and safely.

THE LATE MR. OLDFIELD

VICTORIANS WILL share the regret which the people of Winnipeg will experience at the passing of Mr. John Henry Oldfield. Although he was known to a large number in this community, many of whom have more than once enjoyed his good humor and generous hospitality, the part he played in the development of the Prairie metropolis strikingly identifies his life and works with Winnipeg's progress.

In his beautiful home in Saanich the late Mr. Oldfield enjoyed the Autumn of his days amid surroundings to which he had become thoroughly attached. But he lived not unto himself; his greatest joy was to furnish pleasure for others; and this was the type of his citizenship. To those the more acutely bereaved The Times extends its sincere sympathy.

To-morrow night's meeting to be addressed by the Prime Minister should be well attended. Mr. King will deal with the issues of the day and Victoria is vitally interested in them.

Mr. MacKenzie King will naturally want to see the Government's property in Victoria; he will only require to take a cursory glance, however, because Dr. King knows all about it and has shown his practical interest in local progress on more than one occasion. That being the case the Prime Minister will be entitled to a little recreation in our salubrious atmosphere.

DR. FRANK CRANE

"STRIKES"

STRIKES are pure barbarism. They are an application of force. Not force on the guilty, but force applied to a third party who has nothing to do with the case. When a man has a financial difference with his neighbor he does not try to get payment by being offensive to his neighbor's wife and children or puncturing the tires of the village physician's automobile or going around shooting up the butcher and baker who have nothing to do with the matter.

But when Labor and Capital fall out they each begin to abuse the public and hope by this means to secure their rights. Every other kind of dispute between men and groups is taken before a court of law. The question is extended according to well-known rules of evidence and the only force in the case is used to compel acquiescence and results. But in disputes between employer and employee it is supposed to be the thing to do to abuse the public. Of course that may be the only means of bringing the condition of the laborer home to us and making us realize what long hours and low wages are, but it is a poor means of settling the dispute.

It shows that so far the business world has not found itself and the rule of law and order is not complete in business. For when it is complete, a man who is aggrieved can take his grievance before the proper tribunal and have it settled. He is not compelled to take his pistol and run amuck through the streets. There was a recent strike at Covent Garden in London. When it was finally settled the workmen went back at about the same rates they had been getting. The curious spectacle was presented of a strike throwing thousands out of employment taking place at the same time that Great Britain is complaining of its unemployed classes. If the workers want the sympathy of the general public they will have to get it in some other way than by the use of force.

TALL NETTLES

Tall nettles cover up, as they have these many springs, the rusty harrow, the plough, the Long worn out and the roller made of stone. Only the elm butt tops the nettles now. This corner of the farmyard I like most. As well as any bloom upon a flower I like the dust on the nettles, never lost. Except to prove the sweetness of a shower. —Edward Thomas.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Chance makes relations. Choice makes friends. Time is a great master, he rules matters well. Fine actions which are hidden are the most worthy.

Time spares nothing that has been done without him. Things are only worth what one makes them worth.

Quarrels would not last long if the wrong were only on one side. Talents are distributed by Nature without regard to pedigree.

Utopias are often only premature truths. Better it is to write of laughter than of tears, for laughter is the natural function of man.

One is not often dissatisfied with others excepting because one is dissatisfied with one's self.

You can only govern men by serving them. The rule is without exception.

Think what you like to say, say what you ought.

The more one approaches great men the more one finds that they are men.

Each one should endure with equanimity what he has brought upon himself.

When good will is taken away the name of friendship is gone.

The miser is as much in want of what he has as of what he has not.

Wit when temperate is pleasing, when unbridled it offends.

The greatest burden in the world is superstition.

KNOW YOUR COUNTRY

Q.—Who was the poet of the habitant? W. H. Drummond was the poet of the habitant or the French-Canadian, who wrote several volumes of verse. He was a resident of Montreal.

Q.—What Scotch-Canadian developed from a clerk to a baronet? A.—Donald Smith was the Scotch lad who, when he first came to Canada, became a clerk in the Hudson's Bay Co. and afterward became Sir Donald Smith, and later Lord Strathcona, and Canadian High Commissioner in London. He gave away large sums of his wealth to hospitals, and financed the "Strathcona Horse" cavalry corps in the South African War.

LEISURE

What is this life if, full of care, We have no time to stand and stare? No time to stand and stare! No time to stand and stare!

No time to see, in broad daylight, Streams full of stars, like skies at night.

No time to turn at Beauty's glance, And watch her feet, how they can dance.

No time to wait till her mouth can Enrich that smile her eyes began.

A poor life this if, full of care, We have no time to stand and stare. —W. H. Davies.

IMMIGRATION CASES CONTINUE WITH JAIL TERMS

Five Chinese Now Convicted of Attempted Fraudulent Entry

Three Chinese charged with attempting entry into Canada by means of forged certificates, each sentenced to six months' imprisonment with deportation at the expiry of that term by Magistrate Jay in City Police Court yesterday afternoon. Lung Wah Yit, Hoy Yuen and Chu Wah, the accused, thus joined two companions who have already been tried and dealt with in the same manner. Five other Chinese remain to be tried on the same charge.

The prosecution of the three cases yesterday afternoon followed in almost every particular the proceedings of the previous two days. The accused, according to the Crown, presented themselves in the returned Chinese line-up on board ship and later tendered what the prosecution testified were forged credentials. For the defence it is urged that the men are innocent of wilful intent, that they have been themselves imposed upon with pecuniary loss, and that they are not even yet "landed" in Canada, but technically aboard ship.

T. M. Miller appearing with W. C. Moreby for the accused, J. B. Clearbush appears for the Immigration Department, and M. B. Jackson, K. C., for the Department of Justice.

In passing out convictions yesterday Magistrate Jay held the accused must have known that they were posing as returned men, or men with previous domiciliary qualifications in this country.

The congregation at the Community Church heard two eloquent addresses Sunday night on the subject, "Window Smashing," a study in sociology, delivered by the Rev. Ralph C. Jones and Howard Durnan.

The Rev. Mr. Jones dwelt considerably on the social conditions which Mr. Durnan confined his remarks to sociology and economics in general, bringing out how certain reforms had been brought about by window smashing and other violent methods, touching lightly upon the recent damage done to a local store by a man for the purpose of bringing himself and his family's condition before the public, more than for the purpose of taking the jewelry displayed in the window.

The Rev. Mr. Jones also spoke on the conditions that caused crime where otherwise crime was not entertained in the mind of the victim of circumstances. He made it plain that he was not trying to justify crime, while on the other hand he pointed out that necessity frequently drove men and women to do things which offend the very ones who condemn them would do worse acts of violence were they in similar circumstances.

Mr. Jones said that the smashing of the jewelry store window had a twofold effect, firstly, it was a good thing that the window-smasher was caught, for had he got away with the jewelry he might have continued as a robber, thinking it was an easy livelihood, but when he was arrested in his first act of a bold robbery the window-smasher soon saw the need of his way, hence his repentance and forgiveness. The other effect of the window-breaking was the calling attention of the well-fed, clothed and housed to the want of food, clothing, money, etc. He said it was a disgrace to our vaunted civilization that a man had to do something desperate before he could rouse public sympathy, for as long as man or woman suffered pangs of hunger, proper clothing and bed clothes, etc., and did not publicly protest against the injustice meted out to them, no one seemed to care, but as soon as acts of desperation by a single individual or numerous acts of crime resulting from the mental and physical strain of those who cannot get a foothold in the very land they fought for, then the public awakens to the danger and attempts are made to relieve the situation. Mr. Jones likened the case of the recent window-smasher to Victor Hugo's character Jean Valjean as depicted in "Les Misérables" and quoted from Emerson's well-known phrase that "Necessity knows no law."

The speaker declared that public sentiment had freed the young window-smasher and told of the pitiful condition of this man's house and family and how he had slept in his clothes, including his overcoat, in order to keep warm during the night. He also mentioned other pitiful incidents, as well as his hard efforts to obtain work.

Mr. Jones, in company with Alderman Woodman, had visited the young man during his incarceration and later had visited his home and had been very active on his behalf.

The young man with his little boy attended the service on Sunday night at the Community Church and told Mr. Jones that he had to be at a job at 5 a.m. on Monday morning.

His Son's Sight

Already a number of parents have brought children to our specialist for eye examination. In one case the father frankly said he believed the trouble with his son was not sight, but a dislike of study and school.

Actually, the boy could not see well enough to read figures on a blackboard fifteen feet away and, boylike, never questioned it, taking it for granted that no other boys could do any better. Glasses opened a new world for this youngster.

Why not bring your youngster in and let us examine his eyes. Free Consultation.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

THE VITAL IMPORTANCE OF MARKET EXTENSION

A wider market is essential to the British Columbia lumber industry so that an increased output may be readily absorbed.

An examination of our export figures for the last eight years show that the shipments to foreign countries have risen from 48,000,000 feet in 1915 to 521,000,000 feet in 1923—a twelvefold increase.

The enterprises of our manufacturers who have effected this extraordinary trade expansion have entailed a vast expenditure of money, patience and energy.

If the figures are dissected further and the United States and Japan are eliminated, we find that the shipments to other countries amount to 167,000,000 feet in 1923 and 40,000,000 feet in 1915, or little over fourfold increase, proving that we pin our faith considerably to our trade with the United States and Japan, both countries with vast softwood resources of their own.

The moral is, that we must strive to open up more world markets and that more intensive trade extension effort must be directed to the exploitation of the timber-hungry countries of Europe, South America, and the Orient, where softwoods such as ours are scarce and where they would be welcomed were they better and more favorably known.

The people of British Columbia must give the industry their goodwill and assistance in this effort, since it is they who benefit first, last and all the time.

The public have a very big interest in the standing timber of this Province, which netted them $3,500,000 in revenue last year. This amount would have been less than had it not been for the market extension work of our lumbermen. Had there been no timber exported, it would have been less than the public would have derived no revenue from it.

The timber industries' further plans for intensive trade expansion work are absolutely dependent on their being allowed a sufficient margin from the sale of the product to devote to this work, so vital to their own existence and to the progress of the whole Province.

As long as the menace of the present Royalty Act hangs over them there is neither money or inducement to engage in trade extension work.

Only following the establishment of the royalty question on a fair and equitable basis to both the public and the industry can a vigorous policy of market expansion be carried on.

A Lively Spirit

Life is an obstacle race.

No sooner have you got over one obstruction than another springs up in your path.

The man who wins life's prizes is the man who has the grit, the enterprise and the self-confidence that enables him to take every obstacle in his stride.

Are you that man? Or do you get depressed and weary when difficulties face you?

If so, it's your health that's at fault. Your internal mechanism is not running smoothly. Something is clogging the works, with the result that impurities are collecting in the body, entering the blood and lowering the whole tone of the system and making you "fed up" with life in general.

Kruschen will put you right in no time, and keep you right if you make up your mind to go on with the habit of the "little daily dimful."

Every morning you tip into your breakfast cup of coffee or tea, a tiny pinch of Kruschen Salts—just as much as will lie on a ten cent piece. This little dose is a combination of just the vital salts which Nature demands for the body's health. Taken this way it is quite tasteless but it stimulates the liver and kidneys to the proper performance of their duty, thorough cleansing the system of all impurities and sends new, refreshing blood streaming to every part of the body.

In a few days you'll be tingling from head to foot with the over flowing vitality that springs from sheer good health. Obstacles won't frighten you then. Kruschen is now sold by all druggists in 75c bottles. Get a bottle and start taking it at once and you, too, will possess that glorious "Kruschen feeling" that makes life twenty times better than it was before.

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains daily use for adults is "as much as will lie on a ten cent piece," taken in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Every day, half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for children is 25c.

NAVY LEAGUE IS PLACING CADETS IN SEA TRAINING

Has Sent Many Boys From Victoria to Learn Merchant Marine Trade

Under the supervision and stimulation of the Navy League of Canada branch in Victoria over sixty boys from this port have been sent to sea and trained in their early years for marine service, and the result is that Canadian sailors are traveling the seven seas on vessels out of every port in the world. During the last four years no less than sixty boys have left Victoria to go to sea aboard vessels of various shipping firms.

These boys are given the rudiments of a sailor's training while ashore, and are eventually placed aboard ships there to learn the officers' trade. Only lately three young men from this port passed, their second matriculation examinations and received certificates, and are now full-fledged officers on the ships where they have berths. These men are Messrs. Denyer, Denver and Smith, all of Victoria.

There are many other Victoria lads serving upon the ships which ply over the seas of the world, and a list of these and the ships upon which they are engaged follows:

J. Thacker, Virginia Dollar; A. Richardson, Virginia Dollar; J. Ellis, Virginia Dollar; I. Simon, Virginia Dollar; J. Johnson, Empress of Asia; Basil Ford, Esther Dollar; Roger Medd, Harold Dollar; N. P. Clarke, Canadian Prospector; T. Craigdallie, Canadian Prospector.

In the past twelve months there have been over eighty-two boys trained for service here and some of them have already entered the merchant service. Others are still in training and some have left the Navy League class for some other occupation, but there is no doubt but that the Navy League has materially helped their training.

The latest two appointments to ships are Frank Hughes, to the Canadian Transporter on June 2, 1924, and L. Watkins, to the Canadian Importer, on August 4, 1924. Both these boys are of this city and are expected to do well in service, for they gave exceptional promise while in training here and were the best recruited body of boys.

CANADIAN PACIFIC VESSELS TAKING UP WINTER SCHEDULES

Two Vessels Sent to Convey Herring Catch of Barkley Sound to This Port for Shipment to Orient; Heavy Tonnage Expected From West Coast; Other Boats Assume Winter Runs

The Canadian Pacific Coast steamship service boats are being arranged for their winter schedule. Capt. C. D. Neroutsos, acting manager in the absence of Capt. J. W. Troup, announced this morning that the biggest freight business from the herring fishery district in years is expected within a few days.

"Already," said Capt. Neroutsos, "the herring run is beginning and the Japanese fishermen all through the Barkley Sound and at other points along the coast are dragging in their catches. The regular steamer on the West Coast run, the Princess Maquinna, is not sufficient to handle this increased trade. The Havelock Wilson, president of the British Seamen's Union, accompanied by several delegates from that association, arrived at New York on Friday, October 10, on the Cunarder Berengaria for the purpose of appearing before the Immigration Commission to discuss various points arising out of the new American immigration act.

BRINGS PREMIER'S PARTY FROM COMOX

With a feather of spray leaping away from her razor bow, H.M.C.S. Patricia sped into Esquimalt Harbor this afternoon at 12:45 o'clock after making a fast trip from Comox and Nanaimo. It was previously thought that Premier King would himself travel to Victoria on the Patricia, but he changed his mind at the last minute, and he and the other Ministers motored to Victoria. The Patricia, on her trip from Prince Rupert, drove through the winter months as fast as thirty miles per hour.

STARTS WINTER RUN

The steamer Princess Mary inaugurated her winter schedule when she sailed from Victoria on Friday last, stated Capt. Neroutsos to-day. She sailed at Vancouver for passengers and freight on route and left that port on the Saturday for the North. She will maintain her schedule throughout the winter months. She runs as far as Juneau, Wrangell and Skagway, via Prince Rupert.

Other ship's movements reported show the reorganization which the officials are planning for the winter sailings of the C.P.R. vessels out of Victoria.

LOUISE IN DRYDOCK

The Princess Louise, the newest of the Canadian Pacific vessels on the coast service, is at present at Esquimalt and will be painted and cleaned during the next few days. The Princess Adelaide will take over the night run to Vancouver from this port, relieving the Princess Louise.

The Princess Charlotte is on the Seattle run as usual. The Princess Victoria is resuming her 2:15 o'clock afternoon sailing for the winter. There will be two ships laid up during the winter, it was officially announced this morning, and one of them will be a relief steamer. This will probably be the Princess Royal.

SERVICE IN GULF

Ss. Charnier will leave Vancouver on her winter service to Mayne, Ganges Island and Port Washington, proceeding from the latter to Victoria, and calling there again on her return trip to Vancouver. The Charnier leaves Vancouver at 8:30 o'clock on Monday mornings and leaves Victoria on the return trip at noon on Tuesdays.

CERTIFICATE WILL NOW BE SUSPENDED

Marine Court Also Requires A. Berquist to Pay Fine; Tug-Burned

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—Finding that the loss of the tug Trebia, which was burned at Sitwash Bay, some months ago, was due to the wrongful act and default of A. Berquist, master and owner, and that the circumstance connected with the fire were open to very grave suspicion, Captain J. D. MacPherson, sitting as a marine court of inquiry, to-day ordered the certificate of Berquist suspended for six months.

In addition, a fine of $100 was imposed, it being alleged that the certificate had been tampered with. The court, in returning its decision, announced that Berquist deviated from the proper course for the vessel and had left her anchored in the bay and wrongfully short-handed, thereby endangering the lives of two men who were left aboard and who were unable to take means to fight the fire owing to absence of steam.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The steamer Rose City, which is to be taken over by the McCormick line on October 29 at Portland, will be tied up several days in Portland at that time for repairs and renovations. It was announced here yesterday. The ship will then be worked into a regular schedule of the line between here and the North.

At the regular meeting of the Intercoastal Eastbound Conference held here yesterday a wire was sent to the Eastern Conference asking it to outline instructions for the recently appointed weather advisory rate committee. Since the appointment of the advisory committee complications have arisen that made it necessary for more specific instructions as to the basic working plan of the committee. As soon as these instructions have been received the committee will begin to function. The advisory committee was named as a go-between between the rate-making body in New York and consignees on this Coast.

ANTI-VIVISECTION BOARD MEETING

The regular board meeting of the Anti-Vivisection Society was held Tuesday. David Leeming presiding. Various matters of interest were discussed, including the proposed legislation regarding the use of animals in scientific experiments. The board also discussed the recent case of a dog named "Buster" who was used in a medical experiment.

A letter from Pittsburgh gave information regarding a smallpox scare in that city, which had died out following a huge meeting of protest on the part of the citizens. The attention of the board was also drawn to the fact that the Boston Anti-Vivisection Society had received a legacy of $300,000. This organization was for many years presided over by the late Edward H. Clement, editor of The Boston Transcript.

Arrangements were concluded by the local board for the meeting on Friday night in the Conservative Club Room, when Ernie Fawcett, M.P., well-known medical man and poet, will give an address. Mrs. Heatherbell, Mrs. Groves, Mrs. Wright and others will contribute to the musical programme and refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to all. At the general meeting of the Canadian Legion last night, the members did honor to Secretary H. P. Thorpe by presenting him with an illuminated address as a mark of appreciation of the service that he had rendered to ex-service men in general and the members of the Canadian Legion in particular.

The presentation was made by the Post Commander, Comrade F. A. Robertson, who, in a few congratulatory remarks, asked Comrade Thorpe to accept the address as a token of the confidence and high esteem in which he was held by the members of the association.

Comrade Thorpe heartily thanked the members for this expression of appreciation of the services he had rendered to the ex-service men and their dependents. ## NEW ROUTE FOR RAILWAY THROUGH MOUNTAINS FOUND

C.N.R. Engineers Survey Montanan Pass For E.D. And B.C. Extension

Investigate Possibilities of Giving Peace River Country Railroad Service

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—The Canadian National Railway engineers under the direction of E. M. Hill of Winnipeg, who went over the Montanan Pass in August and September, are now working through the Pine River Pass, where they are getting further data on the grades through the mountains, having in view an extension of the Edmonton, Dungeness and British Columbia Railway, westward to connect with the Canadian National Railway at a point near Prince George and a complete short route from the Peace River country to the Pacific Coast. The party was a month and a half in the Montanan Pass, which is fifteen miles north of the Wapiti River, and the unofficial route of the party is an excellent grade over the mountains in that region.

The engineers are getting all possible information on prospective western routes out of the Peace River country for presentation to officials of the Canadian National Railway at a conference to be held at Winnipeg on the 23rd of the year, which will be called by Sir Henry Thornton and at which the Minister of Railways will be present and representative of the Provincial Governments interested.

WINNIPEG DEMANDS FREIGHT RATE CUT

Council of Board of Trade Asks Government of Canada to Take Action

Crow's Nest Appeal Will Put Case Before Parliament, Says McGeer

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—Rescinding by the Governor-in-Council immediately following the decision of the Crow's Nest Pass Freight Rate Agreement was demanded by the council of the Winnipeg Board of Trade at an emergency meeting last evening.

The resolution also urges that the railways be ordered to put into effect immediately reduced rates at all points which are now discriminated against by the technical application of the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement. It declares the Dominion Government "is in honor bound to uphold and enforce the agreement," and maintains there was "no warrant nor justification for the Railway Board's decision."

The policy of the board in working for reduced freight rates for Western Canada will be continued energetically, the council decided, and the co-operation of boards of trade and public bodies in the Western provinces is confidently expected. They will be asked to take action immediately on the lines the resolution passed here last evening.

Copies of the resolution has been wired to Premier King, now in British Columbia; the Minister of Railways, Ottawa; R. B. Angus, Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative Party, and Robert Forke, M.P. for Brandon, leader of the Progressive Party.

The shippers' section of the board was authorized to call a meeting of all public bodies and organizations interested in the Crow's Nest Pass.

STATEMENT BY McGEER

Vancouver, Oct. 16.—Commenting on the Railway Board's judgment in favor of the Crow's Nest Pass freight rates, G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for British Columbia at the recent hearings of the Railway Board, stated that he recognized the fact that British Columbia was back in her old position, a situation more favorable than existed under the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, but he was inclined to deplore the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway had scored such a complete victory in its fight for removal of the Crow's Nest Pass rates, which would be conducted at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, by Rev. A. L. Nixon, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The late Mr. Oldfield was born on February 7, 1854, in Caldecote, Norfolk County, England, and had been a resident of Saanich for the past twelve years, and is survived by, besides his widow, two sons and one daughter at home.

There passed away yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Mary Jane Weeks, aged forty-one years, a native of England, resident of the city for the past seven months and formerly of Lytton, B.C. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and one daughter. The remains were forwarded by the Thompson Funeral Home on the afternoon boat to Vancouver en route to Lytton, B.C., where interment will take place.

BEER OPPONENTS WILL STAMP OUT COLLEY DECLARES

Believes House Will Reject Granting of Beer Licenses By Small Majority

Liberal Caucus to Take up Question at Preliminary Meeting October 29

That anti-beer Liberals in the Legislature will not vote for the issuance of beer licenses under any consideration is the assertion of Mayor J. R. Colley, M. P.P.-elect for Kamloops, who arrived here to-day to confer with the Government on matters affecting his constituency.

Mr. Colley's views, with those of other Liberals who are opposed to the opening of beer bars in British Columbia, will go before the Liberal caucus which, under present plans, will hold a preliminary meeting here on October 29 to make preparations for the Autumn session of the Legislature.

"I have not changed my attitude and I will not vote for beer under any consideration," Mr. Colley declared to-day. "I do not feel that the beer plebiscite given the Government a mandate to open beer bars in this Province, and in this attitude I am backed by a number of leading Liberal members."

Mr. Colley intimated that the Vancouver Liberals would oppose the granting of beer licenses. He stated that if the beer question, as anticipated, went to a non-partisan vote of the House, twenty-five members would oppose beer and twenty-three would support it.

U.S. DIRIGIBLE IS FLYING NORTH TO CAMP LEWIS

Shenandoah Traveling to Point Near Tacoma From California Field

Admiral Moffett Says Airships' Value For Commercial Uses Proved

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 16.—The Shenandoah, first trans-continental dirigible of the United States, left its mooring mast at North Island this morning at 9:12 o'clock and after a short flight over the extreme southern portion of the city, started north. It is to proceed to Camp Lewis, near Tacoma, where there is a mooring mast.

VALUE PROVED

The Shenandoah proved the value of rigid airships for commercial purposes by her achievements on the difficult cross-mountain flight to the Pacific, according to a statement issued by Rear-Admiral W. A. Moffett, Chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, who is making the long trip as an observer.

Admiral Moffett said: "The successful voyage of the ZR-3 across the Atlantic Ocean and of the Shenandoah across the American continent should arouse the public interest in the use of rigid airships for transporting mail, high-class freight and passengers across land or water."

"The primary aim of the Navy Department in operating the Shenandoah and the ZR-3 is to demonstrate whether this can be done and I feel that the successful voyages of the two ships have gone far to prove that the navy's confidence is fully justified and that its generous pioneering field of transportation should repay the nation a thousandfold in the coming years."

ZR-3 CONGRATULATED

When official word was received of the arrival from Germany of the dirigible ZR-3 at Lakehurst, the home of navy lighter-than-air navigation, Admiral Moffett sent the following official felicitations by navy radio:

"Dr. Hugo Eckener, commanding ZR-3, Lakehurst, N. J.: Please accept my congratulations on your successful flight. I hope it may serve to assist in convincing the public of the practicability of airships for commercial purposes, and especially for transporting mail across the oceans and bringing the world closer together for mutual understanding and therefore lasting peace."

SEEN AT LONG BEACH
Long Beach, Cal., Oct. 16.—The Shenandoah passed directly over Long Beach at 12:23 p.m., heading northeast.

BASEBALL, BOXING, HUNTERS FIND SHOT, FLYING THICKER BY FAR THAN THE BIRDS

Hunters Find Shot Flying Thicker By Far Than the Birds

Plenty of Pheasants Brought in Yesterday; Ducking Shot Is Fate of Soldiers

Good bags and excellent sport attended the opening of the pheasant season yesterday. On the Saanich peninsula and in other districts close in daylight was ushered in by a salvo of shots that echoed through the hills like the last great offensive on the Western Front.

Partridge-shooting in Saanich proceeded with considerably more danger to men than to birds. Several good bags, however, were brought back; and to date no report of any serious casualty is to hand. In many instances hunters quietly crossing neighboring fields received spent charges of bird shot on top of their hats. Dogs suffered equally.

PHEASANTS PLENTIFUL

Pheasants provided excellent sport in agricultural centres and many a hunter returned with the legal limit. Excited at the first of the season, dogs flushed many birds out of range, and in some cases the pheasants were shot at the close of the morning barrage.

Incidents in the day included the peculiar accident of one hunter who, in the excitement of the chase, mistook a pheasant for a dog and shot at it. The bird was killed, but the hunter was badly hurt.

TOO MUCH FOR SOLDIERS

Caught in the thick of the partidge drive in Saanich several returned soldiers found the popping of guns and the rattle of spent shot much to their nerves. They left the field to the advancing hordes, who continued the "big push" until sundown put an end to the barrage.

Reports from Duncan and other up-land points state game to be plentiful, and excellent sport in progress. Closer to the city the first of the season saw more hunters than usual. It was a fact that almost every hunter "got the limit," there was many an empty bag hung up at the close of the day.

East Is Stirring Over Approach of Big Hockey Season

"Hot Stove" League is Off to Good Start and Sport Writers Are Busy

Toronto, Oct. 14.—The "hot stove" league is away to a good start, and sport editors are busy putting the line-ups on paper, making transfers from one club to another, creating new teams and generally reminding the hockey customers that they have not long to wait for action.

The Mail and Empire takes a whirl at the professional and amateur hockey situation. Ken, Randall and Corbett Denenny will not play with Hamilton next winter, it states, as Percy Thomson is going to use both players in trade.

CRICKETERS IN HOCKEY

The Mail also states that the Toronto Cricket Club will make application to place a "simon-pure" team in the O. H. A. and if accepted, the club will play in the Ontario Hockey Association.

LEWIS WINS EASILY

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—Ed Strangler Lewis successfully defended his world's heavyweight wrestling championship by defeating George Kotsarinos, Greek challenger, in straight falls here last night. The first fall was scored in fifty minutes, and the second in twenty minutes, and Lewis headlock won him both falls.

A VICTORY FOR TONY

Memphis, Oct. 16.—Tony Capone, New York lightweight, was awarded the referee's decision over Lou Denison, Denver lightweight, in an eight-round bout here last night.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR BALTIMORE STAR

Another interesting programme will be served up to the Old Country football devotees this week-end. The fixture list is as follows:

DIVISION 1

Arsenal vs Aston Villa.

Burnley vs Bolton Wanderers.

Southampton vs Tottenham Hotspur.

Liverpool vs Sheffield United.

Manchester City vs Huddersfield Town.

Nottingham Forest vs West Ham United.

Preston North End vs Notts County.

Sunderland vs Newcastle United.

West Bromwich Albion vs Birmingham.

DIVISION 2

Barnsley vs Portsmouth.

Bradford City vs Derby County.

Chelsea vs Stockport County.

Clapton Orient vs Stoke.

Crystal Palace vs Leicester City.

Middlesbrough vs Hull City.

Oldham Athletic vs South Shields.

Port Vale vs Blackpool.

The Wednesday vs Coventry City.

Southampton vs Manchester United.

Wolverhampton Wanderers vs Fulham.

Arsenal have apparently flattered only to deceive. After getting away to a good start at the beginning of the season they have recently fallen down badly and it would not occasion much surprise if Aston Villa took at least one point from the "Gunners."

Burnley vs Bolton should provide a most interesting and strenuous contest with the issue very much in doubt. The two teams have been evenly matched, with Bolton possibly the better balanced eleven.

THE BEST GAME

Probably the most interesting game of the day in either division of the English league is that scheduled between Manchester City and Huddersfield. Both sides are numbered among the strongest in the football world and additional interest is lent to the game owing to the fact that Huddersfield has not yet tasted defeat this season.

Another "battle of the giants" will probably take place when Sunderland entertain their near and dear rivals Newcastle United, at Roker Park.

Preston North End appear to have little chance of victory over Notts County even though the game is at Deepdale. The "Pies" have been beaten at Anfield and as the "Blades" are not strangers to victory on this particular enclosure it would not occasion much surprise if they at least secured the spoils with the ex-champions.

In the second division Derby County meet Bradford City on the ground of the last named and will be expected to add to their points total and their prestige at the expense of the Yorkshire men.

Manchester United will journey to Southampton and may share the points although the "Saints" can generally give a good account of themselves when playing at the Dell.

A BIG ATTRACTION

The game between Crystal Palace and Leicester City is expected to prove a big attraction and the match should produce some excellent football. The home team should win but it is by no means a foregone conclusion that they will as Leicester is also a side to be reckoned with.

Oldham Athletic are meeting companions in distress when they receive South Shields. It will be a hard-fought contest with the issue very much in the air, but sides doing their best to climb a little higher in the table.

It is not likely that there will be much change in position among the teams at the bottom of the ladder in either division, this week.

GETS JUDGE'S VERDICT

Montreal, Oct. 16.—Ted Cossette, local lightweight, was given the judges' decision over Frankie Bull of Toronto, in a twelve-round title bout here last night. Cossette won the Canadian lightweight championship by taking eight of the dozen rounds and in the ninth of a ten-round bout.

In the semi-final, Wolfe Larsen of Boston knocked out Archie Skinner of Montreal, in the ninth of a ten-round bout.

RIGHT PUTTING STYLE

The fingers of the right hand are down when he puts and the wrists are directly opposite the hands. With the left hand there is less tendency to pull the putter. The wrists follow through more easily along the line. One of the most perfectly executed strokes seen during the entire championship was that long approach putt of Bobbie's at the sixteenth on the morning round of the final. It requires the acme of judgment to control the ball at that distance, yet if Jones had had the line exactly his ball would have dropped into the cup. As it was it came to rest only a trifle to the left of the hole.

In the decisive match as well as in earlier contests Jones has been the victor only in the use of the putter, but also on the chip shots from a few yards off the green. These chips were disconcerting to his opponents who, after having gained a seeming advantage, suddenly found themselves struggling for halves. George von Elm surely had a taste of this through the final.

Bobbie announced his intention of going to England to play in the British amateur next spring, and it is the belief of all who saw him play that he will do well abroad.

ASHE LOSES OUT

Baltimore, Oct. 16.—Benny Schwartz, Baltimore flyweight, was awarded the judge's decision over Frankie Ashe of England at the end of a twelve-round bout here last night. Ashe weighed 114½ pounds and Schwartz 114½.

Preston North End appear to have little chance of victory over Notts County even though the game is at Deepdale. The "Pies" have been beaten at Anfield and as the "Blades" are not strangers to victory on this particular enclosure it would not occasion much surprise if they at least secured the spoils with the ex-champions.

In the second division Derby County meet Bradford City on the ground of the last named and will be expected to add to their points total and their prestige at the expense of the Yorkshire men.

Manchester United will journey to Southampton and may share the points although the "Saints" can generally give a good account of themselves when playing at the Dell.

A BIG ATTRACTION

The game between Crystal Palace and Leicester City is expected to prove a big attraction and the match should produce some excellent football. The home team should win but it is by no means a foregone conclusion that they will as Leicester is also a side to be reckoned with.

Oldham Athletic are meeting companions in distress when they receive South Shields. It will be a hard-fought contest with the issue very much in the air, but sides doing their best to climb a little higher in the table.

It is not likely that there will be much change in position among the teams at the bottom of the ladder in either division, this week.

GETS JUDGE'S VERDICT

Montreal, Oct. 16.—Ted Cossette, local lightweight, was given the judges' decision over Frankie Bull of Toronto, in a twelve-round title bout here last night. Cossette won the Canadian lightweight championship by taking eight of the dozen rounds and in the ninth of a ten-round bout.

In the semi-final, Wolfe Larsen of Boston knocked out Archie Skinner of Montreal, in the ninth of a ten-round bout.

The fingers of the right hand are down when he puts and the wrists are directly opposite the hands. With the left hand there is less tendency to pull the putter. The wrists follow through more easily along the line. One of the most perfectly executed strokes seen during the entire championship was that long approach putt of Bobbie's at the sixteenth on the morning round of the final. It requires the acme of judgment to control the ball at that distance, yet if Jones had had the line exactly his ball would have dropped into the cup. As it was it came to rest only a trifle to the left of the hole.

In the decisive match as well as in earlier contests Jones has been the victor only in the use of the putter, but also on the chip shots from a few yards off the green. These chips were disconcerting to his opponents who, after having gained a seeming advantage, suddenly found themselves struggling for halves. George von Elm surely had a taste of this through the final.

Bobbie announced his intention of going to England to play in the British amateur next spring, and it is the belief of all who saw him play that he will do well abroad.

ASHE LOSES OUT

Baltimore, Oct. 16.—Benny Schwartz, Baltimore flyweight, was awarded the judge's decision over Frankie Ashe of England at the end of a twelve-round bout here last night. Ashe weighed 114½ pounds and Schwartz 114½.

A VICTORY FOR TONY

Memphis, Oct. 16.—Tony Capone, New York lightweight, was awarded the referee's decision over Lou Denison, Denver lightweight, in an eight-round bout here last night.

LEWIS WINS EASILY

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—Ed Strangler Lewis successfully defended his world's heavyweight wrestling championship by defeating George Kotsarinos, Greek challenger, in straight falls here last night. The first fall was scored in fifty minutes, and the second in twenty minutes, and Lewis headlock won him both falls.

A VICTORY FOR TONY

Memphis, Oct. 16.—Tony Capone, New York lightweight, was awarded the referee's decision over Lou Denison, Denver lightweight, in an eight-round bout here last night.

Double-play Wizards

"Peck to Harris to Judge" Makes Fans Forget "Tinker to Evers to Chance"

The whole baseball world acclaims this Washington infield trio the fastest double-play combination on the diamond to-day. In fact, a lot of experts think that the Nationals, in Peck and Harris, have the fastest key-stone combination in the history of the sport.

Time was, in the height of the old Chicago Cubs' glory, when the baseball world thrilled to the old slogan, "Tinkers to Evers to Chance." But it is doubtful if that trio, great as it was, had any edge at all on "Peck to Harris to Judge."

O'Connell Says He Told Kelly While Sand Disputes It

Philadelphia Shortstop Says Jimmy Went to Dug-out and Sat by Himself

New York, Oct. 16.—Frank Frisch, Jimmy Kelly and Ross Young, New York Giants players, implicated by George O'Connell in the latter's attempted bribery of Heinie Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, were exonerated of all connection with the scandal by Commissioner Landis because O'Connell's story did not jibe with the circumstance at the time of his action.

This was disclosed yesterday by a source close to Commissioner Landis and established for the first time the real reason why, apart from their own denials, Frisch, Kelly and Young were cleared in the investigation which preceded the world's series.

NEVER SPOKE TO KELLY

According to this source, O'Connell's story of what happened before and after he approached Sand during the game at the Polo Grounds, September 27, was diametrically opposite to that related by Sand and also the accounts given by the others called before Commissioner Landis.

Asked by Landis what he did after offering Sand $500 to "throw" the game, O'Connell was said to have related that he walked to the batting cage and there told Kelly what had happened. Kelly, however, said, he took part in batting practice.

According to Sand, however, O'Connell did not approach any other player at once, but went to the bench and sat alone in one corner.

Giants Even Series With Sox, With Nehf And Bentley Hurling

Quebec, Oct. 16.—The New York Giants yesterday routed the Chicago White Sox, six to two, in the last game of the series played here. The teams delayed the liner Mount Royal for three hours after her scheduled sailing time, so that they might finish the game prior to embarking on their tour of Europe.

John McGraw and Charles Comiskey reached here yesterday afternoon and sailed with the party which numbered seventy.

The amount wagered at Dufferin Park half-mile track was greater this season than at any mile track with the exception of the Woodbine.

"GAIETY GIRL" WITH

A "thousand-dollar" dress for close-ups, a twenty-dollar dress for long shots—is Mary Philbin's latest method of combating the well-known "overhead" of motion picture production as represented mainly in the time element.

To expedite matters in the way of saving time Miss Philbin asked her costume designer, Margery Safe, to create a "duplicate" costume for her. Another gown was prepared which looked exactly like the original, but of much less expensive material. It was ideal for "long shots," as the grade of the dress material would not

"The Gaiety Girl," an adaptation by Bernard McConville of I. A. R. Wylie's novel, is an intimate study of English life, the locale of which extends from the beautiful castle of Pencarreg on the west coast of England, to back-stage scenes in the Gaiety Theatre.

Miss Philbin is supported by William Haines, Joseph Dowling, James O. Barrows, Freeman Wood, De Witt Jennings, Grace Darmond, Otto Hoffman and other film favorites.

The production, filmed on an extensive scale, is one of the most pretentious promised for the coming season.

HUNT'S ORCHESTRA
AT DOMINION TO-NIGHT

To-night at the Dominion Theatre Charles Hunt's Dance Aggregation will be heard playing several of the latest dance numbers.

If the ovation they received last Thursday night can be taken as a sign of their popularity—then a capacity house to-night should be the result. The feature attraction for to-night includes Ernest Lubitsch's super attraction, "Three Women" starring Pauline Frederick, May McAvoy, Lew Cody and Marie Prevost. The comedy presents again the antics of the ever-popular "Spat Family." The Dominion News completes the bill.

FOUR DIRECTORS
ASSISTED LUBITSCH
IN DOMINION FILM

Three directors served under Ernest Lubitsch as assistant directors in the production of "Three Women," for Warner Bros. They are: James Flood, who gave some of his time while he was directing "The Tenth Woman," another Warner Bros. production; Sven Gade, noted Scandinavian director to whom was assigned the direction, including the construction and dressing of the 350-foot carnival set used in the picture; and Henry Blanke, who has directed many features made in this country and abroad.

This production a successor to Lubitsch's other success, "The Marriage Circle," is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

In the cast are May McAvoy, Pauline Frederick, Marie Prevost, Lew Cody, Pierre Gendron, Willard Louis, Mary Carr. The choice of these ce-lbrities was dictated by Lubitsch's policy to have all-star casts in his pictures, as opposed to the one-star system.

For his story, Lubitsch was fortunate to secure a plot far and away out of the usual. Mrs. Mabel Wilton has her cap set on Edmund Lamont, handsome, Lothario; her plans are upset when Lamont suddenly takes a fancy for Mrs. Wilton's daughter, Mabel, whom he eventually marries. Mrs. Wilton, finding her happiness, but even here the plot takes a zig-zag, for Harriet, a blase home-wrecker, steps in and cuts out both daughter and mother.

SHOW AT ROYAL IS BRIGHTENED BY
EXCELLENT COMEDY

One of the most delightful of musical comedies is this week's offering at the Royal Theatre where Reginald Hinks is presenting "The Isle of Spice" to large and enthusiastic audiences. A snappy, bright show with a sack full of brilliant comedy interspersed with really good music and in one of the most beautiful settings ever seen on the Royal stage. Such old favorites as Enrie Petch, Peggy Lewis, Will Marshall and many others are to be seen, roles that exactly suit their types and they put up a wonderful show.

DIAMOND HUNTING
HAS ITS THRILLS
IN SOUTH AFRICA

On a detour of two days' journey from the town of Johannesburg, the Snow African Expedition visited Kimberley diamond fields and the results will be shown as an episode incidental to the main theme, "Hunting Big Game in Africa with Gun and Camera," which comes to the Coliseum Theatre next week.

Hunting diamonds has its own thrill, as when the Premier Mine unearthed a stone weighing a pound and worth $5,000,000! Previous to that the champion "piece of glass" was the Jaegersfontein carats, found in the Orange Free State back in 1893.

The new champion, which was named the Cullinan, was presented to the late King Edward VII. As one sees it in replica in the "Hunting Big Game" film, it really looks more like a big glass lump than anything else.

Two delightfully have adorned the elder line of musical comedy kings of Seabrook, Hopper, Wilson and the rest. On the bewhiskered, honest-to-goodness Edward R. this honest-to-goodness pound Cullinan would have seemed a wart-like monstrosity. So they cut it up into nine separate stones, which are now among the British Crown Jewels.

Snow and his party saw at the De Beers Mines the $5,000,000 beauty and the lesser Excelsior in exact duplicates of their shapes before cutting. They learned that one concern has an output of $50,000,000 annually, and photographed every stage of the interesting operations. The precious bits of carbon are found in rock technically known as blue ground. This has to be mined, weathered, plowed, rolled and elaborately water-treated—a process of six months to two years—before the diamonds appear.

RICHARD DIX FINDS
DESERT ISLANDS FINE
BUT FURNITURE LIGHT

Much has been written about what books to select for a sojourn on a desert island, and many persons have given their idea of spiritual, mental and physical provisions for such an experience.

The latest to come forward with suggestions on the subject, is Richard Dix, Paramount star, who recently returned from a six weeks' stay on several of the Bahama Islands, where scenes were filmed for a new motion picture, "Sinners in Heaven," in which Dix is co-featured with Bebe Daniels.

Out of the wisdom and experience gained on this trip, Dix offers ten rules, the observance of which, he guarantees, will make living on a desert island a positive delight. Incidentally, he points out, that no matter whether you have the island thrust upon you or you select it yourself, the rules are the same. Here they are:

1. Take a fly-swatter. The sand flies are terrible in the south sea.
2. Take a large bottle of citronella oil as balm for mosquitoes.
3. Take a safety razor, if a man; a vanity case, if a woman.
4. Take forty-nine cans of good spring water to drink.
5. Be sure to have an umbrella, the sun is usually hot.
6. Have several large sticks carefully made to fight off sand crabs.
7. Take along your own refrigerating plant.
8. Provide yourself with a gimlet to bore holes in coconuts.
9. Have a portable victrola and radio set combined.
10. Carry along a large comfortable hammock.

Of course these are only the ten essentials, the bare necessities, needed for a stay on a desert island. If you want real luxury, be sure to have your yacht parked nearby so that when life gets too monotonous on the island you can take a ride.

For further information regarding desert islands, see "Sinners in Heaven," Alan Crosland's production of Clive Arden's story of the same name. The picture is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

CAPITOL ON MONDAY

Lyn Harding, who plays the part of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, with Marion Davies in "Yolanda," the new Cosmopolitan production which will have its premiere in this city Monday night at the Capitol Theatre, has had a distinguished career on the stage and screen. He is native of England and nine years was associated with Sir Herbert Tree. Probably his best known role on the stage is that of King Henry VIII. During his association with Sir Herbert Tree, Mr. Harding also played Brutus, Cassius, Richard II, Prospero and other roles. Later he played in London in "Midchannel," "The Devil" and "The Speckled Band," in which he had the stellar role. Mr. Harding is also well known on the American stage. He appeared with Grace George in "Just to Get Married" and had leading roles in "Oliver Twist," "Years

ALL FILM STARS ARE YOUNG BUT THIS ONE IS REALLY YOUTHFUL

Not the least interesting—not yet the best capable—of the players in "Being Respectable," the Warner Bros. film, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is Virginia Loomis, the four-year-old young lady who is literally the piece de resistance in the big climax of the play. Little Miss Loomis is a member of the vaudeville team known as the Loomis Twins, who are particularly well known throughout the West.

From the time she learned to walk and talk the youngster seems to have taken to theatricals like a duck takes to water and the artistic progress she has made in four short years is nothing less than marvelous. The budding actress is to be seen in a letter on billboards before she is ten years older.

FAVORABLE COMMENT
BY BRITISH PRESS ON
"BARMY LONDON"

Here's what the English press says about "Barmy London" now showing at the Columbia Theatre: "London Daily Mirror: 'The great achievement, the comedy element is as funny as one could wish. We are delighted at its huge success.'"

London Fall Mail: "Riveted by the pathos and comedy of the big humor story. We congratulate the producer, G. B. Samuelson."

London Daily Graphic: "By far the best thing ever done in England. We have no hesitation in acclaiming this a masterpiece of the screen." Birmingham Gazette: "Not for one moment does interest lag. Its Cockney humor and pathos has a strong appeal. One word describes it—great."

Dr. Jackson, although a Canadian, formerly taught Dietetics in one of the Union's great Medical Schools. He is the same Dr. Jackson who won the $1,000 Physical Culture prize for 1924, who won the 1800 mile bicycle contest in 19 days against C. J. Gregory 30 years younger, who invented Roman Meal and whose marvelous physical development has been used as photographs of "Youth at 60" to demonstrate the growth and body-building qualities of Roman Meal throughout Canada, Britain and the States.

It seems clear that if Roman Meal can develop such a physique after 55 out of a broken down old man, it behooves us to find a place in our diet for Roman Meal. And Dr. Jackson says it will do far more for those under 40 and that it is especially valuable for the development of young bodies, therefore ideal for nursing and expectant mothers and children from the 10th month.

AN ARRANGEMENT IS REACHED

Julie gave a little cry of welcome, ran to Blake and lifted her face for his kiss.

"It was scarcely the welcome of a wife who has asked for her freedom, but momentarily she was off guard and her greeting was indicative of the real state of her heart.

Blake's lips were cold.

There was an awkward moment which Blake dispelled by drawing forward a chair, motioning her into it.

"If you have nothing in particular to do just now, suppose we talk things over," he suggested deliberately.

She seated herself with a sudden renewal of her old shyness. Curious, she thought, how awkward she was in the presence of the one man she yearned to impress favorably. All the things she had taught herself, all the poise she had acquired during that arduous summer, vanished under Blake's grave, deliberative gaze.

The realization of this heightened her determination to set Blake free. It proved to her how far she was yet from attaining the ideal.

Blake studied her gravely.

How pretty she was! How trim and smart in appearance! She looked different somehow from the old Julie. Was it her well-cut frock, or the swagger little hat, or the soft tawny hair curling against her smooth cheeks? He leaned forward with a sudden conviction.

"Julie, you have bobbed your hair!" She nodded guiltily, flushing confusedly.

"Take off your hat!"

She did so, revealing a soft waving mass, that made her small head very youthful, very boyish.

"When did you do that?"

"Oh quite early last spring. Didn't you notice it before?"

His lips tightened. Inwardly he was upbraiding himself for his neglect of her. Her question caused him a twinge of conscience. To think that he had not looked at his young wife closely enough to notice such a radical change in her appearance!

"You're not angry?" she asked.

He shook his head.

"It's extremely becoming. And a sensible fashion. But what made you do it?"

"I wanted to look more modern," she faltered.

He considered this for a while. For whom had she wanted to look more modern? Certainly not for herself, else she would not have waited so long.

He remembered the man he had seen coming down the street with her. He questioned abruptly.

She flushed crimson, he noted. Her eyes fell in confusion and she stammered.

"I had a business engagement."

He let it go at that, but he told himself that Anna Denison's theory was correct. There was another man!

Julie was painfully confused. She felt the inadequacy of her explanation, but she shrank from telling him that she had been to take a lesson. He mustn't guess how desperately she was trying to accomplish something. If he laughed, if even the faintest suspicion of amusement touched his eyes or lips, she felt that she would never be able to go on with her course of self-improvement.

Blake drew a long breath.

"Let us discuss that letter you wrote me, Julie. Do you really want us to separate?"

Her slim hands clenched until her nails bit the flesh of her palms. But she nodded.

"Why?"

"I explained that—in my letter," she said faintly. Oh, she couldn't go over it all again in his presence with his grave eyes probing her!

"That was the whole truth—in your letter?"

"Yes," it was barely a whisper.

Blake's lips tightened. After a silence, he said:

"If you're quite determined upon a knock on his door."

"Come in!" he mewed, adding to himself: "Perhaps this is some one to tell me how to make my tail grow longer."

But it was the Fox and the Wolf who entered.

"How can I get a longer tail?" ask'd the Bob Cat.

"Don't be thinking of your silly little tail!" growled the Wolf. "We little tails go to play a trick on Uncle Wiggily. Trick him into coming here to my den!" asked the Bob Cat. "He won't come just because I ask him."

"Maybe he will," said the Fox. "He went to my den but when he got there he beat up some eggs so hard that they splashed batter into my eyes and I couldn't see to catch him."

Do you want to marry someone else, Julie?

She flushed crimson.

"No, oh no!" was the horrified protest.

"Then," said Blake quietly, "I dare say a legal separation will be enough for you."

"A legal separation? I don't believe I know what that is."

He explained.

"A legal separation is a provision of the courts, permitting us to live apart, but not sanctioning the remarriage of either party. It does not preclude the possibility of an absolute divorce at some future time, nor does it forbid the two principals coming together again if they should happen to change their minds. I dare say I am selfish, but I am urging you to a legal separation at this time, rather than an actual divorce. But you MUST know that the grounds necessary to divorce would prove a disastrous factor in the next campaign, and would probably ruin my chances for the Senate. So, if you don't want to marry someone else and can engage being tied to me for a while longer, I shall be very grateful and shall do everything in my power to make it pleasant and easy for you."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Tack Hammer

Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By Howard R. Garis

The Bob Cat stood in front of the looking glass, twisting this way and that way, trying to see his silly little tail.

"Oh, dear! I wish it would grow longer!" mewed the Bob Cat. "I'd like a bushy tail, like the Fox, or a wagging tail, like the Wolf. I don't see why I must go through life with a short tail!"

There was a good reason for that, though the Bob Cat did not know it. And there he stood, trying to see his tail, which he couldn't do, because it was so short. Suddenly there sounded a knock on his door.

"Come in!" he mewed, adding to

"Ouchie!" howled the Bob Cat.

"So whatever trick you play, to get Uncle Wiggily here to your den," said the Fox. "I know what I'll do," he said. "I'll ask Uncle Wiggily to come here to help me tack down my parlor carpet. I've just had it cleaned and it needs tacking down for the winter. Yes, I'll get the bunny here."

So the Bob Cat sent the rabbit gentleman this invitation:

"Please come and help me tack down my carpet."

Now Uncle Wiggily was good and kind, and also rather foolish at times. So when he got the Bob Cat's invitation he said:

"I'll go help him tack down his carpet. Perhaps if I am kind to the Bob Cat he won't be bad any more and try to nibble my ears. I'll take Nurse Jane's tack hammer and help him lay his carpet."

So the bunny took the tack hammer and over the fields and through the woods he hopped. If Nurse Jane had been at home she never would have let him go. But Nurse Jane was down at the five and six cent store buying a new dining room table.

With his tack hammer Uncle Wiggily hopped into the Bob Cat's den.

"Where's the carpet you want laid?" asked the rabbit.

"Here!" answered the Bob Cat, opening the parlor door. And he in-tended the bad chap did—when Uncle Wiggily was in the parlor, to lock the door and keep the rabbit there until the Fox and Wolf could bite the rabbit. And Uncle Wiggily saw him—just in time.

"Ha! You're trying to play a trick on me, aren't you?" cried the rabbit. "I should have known better than to come here! But I'll fix you, I'll not tack your carpet—I'll tack YOU!"

With that the rabbit began to tap the Bob Cat on the toes with the tack hammer.

"Tap! Tap! Tappity-rat-tat!" went the hammer on the toes of the bad chap.

"Ouchie! Wowie! Wowie! Skoo-zie!" howled the Bob Cat, hopping up and down with the pain in his toes. "Bang! Bang!" went the rabbit with the hammer, and then the Bob Cat jumped out of the window and ran away as fast as he could run.

"Saved again!" laughed the bunny, as he hopped to his bungalow. "It's a good thing I had my tack hammer with me. And if the sugar bowl doesn't try to stand on its head on top of a golf ball, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and little Uppie."

Kitty had been naughty, and her father deemed it necessary to administer vigorous correction before setting off for the city.

That an impression had been made was apparent when, on his return from business in the evening, Kitty called upstairs with frigid politeness: "Mother, your husband's home."

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

N.Y. STOCKS RALLY ON ELECTION POLL

New York, Oct. 16 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited).—Stock market prices averaged a little lower to-day. There was no particular news carried in the day's developments. The have been pretty well satisfied in yesterday's session, and the absence of this demand to-day was felt when small selling orders made their appearance. There were several constructive items in the day's news, but not of a pronounced character. It seems as though the desire is still to wait for the results of the election. While this continues and until important interests may more aggressively move, the market may exhibit a dragging appearance.

New York, Oct. 16 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited).—To-day's market was largely made up of professional manoeuvres to bring about renewal of the decline. Following a period of further recovery in the morning, the market opened the way for additional profits on the short side. How little basis there is for an election scare was best demonstrated by the latest returns to the Literary Digest poll. But with the usual amount of groundless stories in circulation to account for the weakness of the market it was found comparatively easy to induce some hang-over liquidation.

Steel common accumulation is based on the belief that another dividend of 50 cents at the meeting Oct. 23, it will drive it home to the investment public in more forcible style than steel has virtually become a $7 stock. News that directors of American Hide and Leather Company at their meeting next Tuesday would discuss a recapitalization plan to take care of 135 per cent dividend arrears on the preferred stock induced a buying movement in that stock which advanced 2 1/4 points to 4 1/2. While announcement may postpone time, a definite plan has been formulated. Goodyear Tire and Rubber preferred sold at 87 1/2, against yesterday's low of 83 1/2 in face of further tire price reductions. Strength in this issue is based on reports that directors are considering a plan on this issue now totaling 26 1/4 per cent will be paid off and the stock placed on a current dividend basis. Two plans are understood to be the subject of discussion. One calls for the payment of the accumulation, either in preferred or common stock, while the other would call for the retirement of the outstanding eight per cent note and bond issues and the offering of a new six per cent bond issue, thereby reducing fixed interest charges.

Earnings are understood to have fallen fifty per cent or $1,000,000 below those of the third quarter in 1923. They will, nevertheless, show some improvement over the second quarter of this year. Stocks rallied briskly in the late trading following publication of Literary Digest poll. Heavy polling of Corn Products and American Can for the year estimate of Nathan Allen, a prominent Wall Street operator, who died recently, was well absorbed. It is understood that the Allen liquidation has now been completed.

WHEAT BREAKS AFTER EARLY BULGE

Chicago, Oct. 16 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.).—Wheat: Heavy realizing and the weakness in corn with a limited general demand after the opening caused too much pressure on wheat and the close was weak. The export takings continue large, and the Argentine conditions are becoming more critical which will still afford a sound basis for break purchases, but the market is a bit affair and wide fluctuations are to be expected.

The advance of the past two days was rapid, and the general demand was taxed too much to absorb the realizing. Broomhall's agent cables from Buenos Ayres that rains must come immediately to prevent serious damage, and some cables said Europe crop would be smaller than a year ago. Export sales were 2,000,000 with 400,000 taken here. On the setbacks we advise buying wheat, but would not ignore crop profits.

Corn: Liquidation of long corn by discouraged holders with aggressive selling credited to cash indicates caused a weak corn market with the lowest prices in some time. Receipts were fair and there was a good demand with cash prices relatively firm, but on the other hand there was a slow speculative demand and the close was weak at much lower prices.

While the weather conditions are good it probably will be wise to go slow on the buying side, but we would not forget the crop will be short under any conditions, and we would not care to press the selling side.

Cash: Sold off sharply influenced by corn largely but the advance early met realising which was the too much mediocre demand. Cash sales were 40,000 bushels. Receipts were liberal again, take the buying side.

foreigners did not follow the advance with buying orders for cash grain.

The situation in Argentina showed no change, warm, dry weather continuing where rain is urgently needed. Favorable reports for maturing corn and wheat of considerable improvement in the crop this week started liquidation in coarse grains. We advise strongly against following long on the market. At the same time, the market evidently furnishes opportunities for profit-taking.

PHYSICIANS' DIPLOMAS WITHOUT INSTRUCTION

Seattle, Oct. 16.—Charges filed in Superior Court here disclosed a "pretended school" where sanapractic physicians' diplomas have been sold at prices ranging from $12.75 to $5 each without the formality of a course of instruction, as provided by law, declared Attorney-General John H. Dunbar, who filed the complaint. The state's allegations are aimed at the American University of San Francisco, headed by John E. Lydon, purported president and business manager, in a civil suit asking that the corporation be dissolved and that the state be appointed. The state asks for a permanent injunction restraining the institution from issuing physicians' diplomas. The complaint charges that diplomas were issued in advance of state examinations by the board of drugless examiners and that the state questions are students in advance to enable them to pass.

"I now feel that I am at the end of my troubles," said the optimist. "Which end?" asked the pessimist.

OIL FIELD FOUND BY QUAIL HUNTER

Gusher in Louisiana Discovered by Business Man Who Tramped About

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 16.—Tradition having it that a burro once kicked up a gold mine in the Rocky Mountains and that the copper deposits in the Southwest were found in a similar manner, folks in this section were not greatly surprised when it developed that Louisiana's newest oilfield was discovered by a quail hunter.

W. W. Lemoine, a local business man who, during the open season spends as much time in the fields as he does in his office, for years has been an inveterate prospector for oil, and about half his time on hunting trips was "wasted" exploring woods and marshes for traces of the "black gold."

TALKED WITH RECLUSE
Lemoine went hunting along Bagdad Bayou, near here, one fine day three years ago, and came upon one Tillman, a negro recluse. The usual topic of conversation with Lemoine was oil, and he soon reached the subject. Tillman knew of no oil, but he did know where there was gas. The upshot was that Lemoine agreed to give Tillman an annuity of $1,500 a year if he would show him where it was and if anything came of it.

SECURED LEASES
Tillman led Lemoine straight across the country to Indian Bayou, only a few miles from here, and there in the edge of the marsh, was the negro's "gas." Lemoine touched a match to it and it burned. Back to Lake Charles he hurried and his first step was to take in his partner, H. M. Henshaw. Then the two set out to get leases. They tied up 4,500 acres of land without expending a penny, agreeing only to pay the owners from $2 to $3 an acre provided they interested some concern that would attempt exploration and development. Fellow citizens of the pair here knew what they were about but they did not set Lake Charles afire with their enthusiasm, else the leases would have been more difficult to obtain.

There followed a struggle to find some oil concern to tackle the proposal. After geologists and other experts had gone over the ground a company became interested and agreed to test the field throughout. The money to bind the leases was in hand, and Lemoine and Henshaw were to get a forty-eighth royalty as their share of what was produced.

OIL WAS STRUCK
Drilling began eighteen months ago and still Lake Charles sailed along on an even keel. Lock Moore well No. 1 was a flivver; so was No. 2. Then the company jumped eighty acres south and started sinking the Miller well. There's a rumor that the eighty-acre jump was made because the question of title loomed in the intervening plot of ground. Anyway, the drilling was resumed. They had moved out of the pine woods, out of what appeared to be a natural oil dome and entered the low marsh land. The first 3,000 feet were easy. As the engineer said: "The pipe almost went down of its own weight." Then came gumbo, shale and sand for 900 feet and then—the gusher.

The usual horde of proven oilfield workers, wildcaters and what not has moved in, machinery and material for more wells and tanks is being transported to the field by the railroad, and Lemoine is oiling his shotgun and exercising his dog preparatory to the opening of the 1924 hunting season.

Rights of French Government and Holders of Russian Bonds Reserved

Paris, Oct. 16.—The French Government on Friday will formally recognize the Soviet Republic of Russia, according to information obtained in official circles. DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and back-ache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Natalie was blown ashore here in 1833 when the crew, a gang of smugglers from Mexico, abandoned her to attend a Cascarone ball at Monterey. As the crew danced at the old Spanish fiesta, a storm arose and the vessel was beached. She was subsequently dismantled and part of her timber was used to build the Abrego house in Monterey. Her bow is in the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Down at our house we had a servant that beat all girls for intelligence. One day my wife went out to go calling and left Mary in charge of the house. When she returned she asked Mary if any one had called for her. She said, "Yes, mum, the baby called for you several times while you were gone." This girl left us, and my wife met her several months later, and she said, "Mary, what are you doing now?" "In sure, mum, I'm workin' for nothing. I'm married."

REALTORS EXAMINE BUILDING SOCIETY OPERATION PLAN

T. J. Goodlake Explains Origin and Objects of New Co-operative Effort

T. J. Goodlake, expert on co-operative building and loan societies, yesterday explained to the Victoria Real Estate Board the great influence which such organizations have had in the growth of cities, his address being the feature of the fortnightly luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. The board voted strong support to the forthcoming campaign for members by the British Pacific Investment and Loan Society of Victoria.

Taking this new organization as a concrete example, Mr. Goodlake pointed out that this new body was the outcome of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce, being founded after the chamber had sponsored a large public meeting at the Empress Hotel, which was addressed by K. V. Haymaker of Detroit.

"In the oldest form of building society which originated more than a century ago, a number of persons clubbed together and agreed to pay for shares at a certain rate for a month each, as funds accumulated they were loaned to members in turn for the purpose of building a home on first mortgage security. Some times the society built the homes it catered to the social needs of the order in which members received their loans was determined by lot. When all had drawn the society terminated."

"This arrangement was inelastic and had sundry other defects. In course of time there was evolved from it the modern form of permanent building and loan society, such as the British Pacific. In this type of institution funds are deposited in savings accounts. They are loaned out on the security of first mortgages on real estate. Current interest rates are charged, say eight per cent. From the revenue thus derived dividends are paid to depositors at a rate after paying operating expenses of six per cent. The attraction to borrowers is the monthly repayment feature of these loans. The attraction to depositors is the high rate of return compared with that obtainable elsewhere with equally good security. Borrowers need not be members until they obtain their loans, when in order to preserve the co-operative character on the concern they are usually required to become members. In fact depositors and borrowers are usually different sets of people. Many persons of small means will use depositors shares to accumulate the margin which they must possess to be able to borrow, as these concerns do not lend on a much higher, if any higher, margin of valuation than other lenders."

"In Victoria several societies of the older or terminating type have been operated successfully, the latest being the Greater Victoria Building Society, founded in 1919. The sale of shares of this society closed at the end of last year.

"Current expenses in organizing the British Pacific Society to date amount to under $200, including printing, advertising and incorporation expense. This has been largely defrayed by entrance fees and subscriptions by the officers of the society. All services have been rendered gratis. There has also been incurred the cost of equipping the society with books and forms."

Mr. Goodlake then explained the prospectus and the accounting forms being examined by the realtors.

"As you see the machine is complete and in working order and all that is necessary is to lubricate it with a certain amount of ready cash. The directors' estimate is $2,000; the minimum amount required is $2,000; to place out on loan and $500 to keep on hand to meet withdrawals and for working capital."

Mr. Goodlake urged the realtors to support a campaign for members by voluntary effort and interest on the part of the directors, the press, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations which may be interested, donation of free window space and so on.

"This is the plan which the directors of the society hope will prove efficacious. At a meeting last week those present pledged themselves to subscribe $1,000 to the required amount and to interest themselves in obtaining further subscriptions. They authorize me to express their appreciation of the action of the Real Estate Board in giving the subject such prominence as they are doing to-day, and would like to specially commend the scheme to the interest of our profession as most undoubtedly tending to increase the turnover in property and assist in restoring values," he said.

PLAN TO START FILM INDUSTRY HERE OUTLINED

Proposition From Hollywood Produced Before Tourist Group

Five acres of ground on the waterfront are sought, and the cost of the $50,000 for Dr. John T. Thompson, of Hollywood, to establish the motion picture industry in Victoria, the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce were told yesterday.

C. P. Hill, president of the group, outlined the offer, and said he was convinced that Dr. Thompson was a thoroughly reliable man. David Leeming, who also met Dr. Thompson, said his opinion was that he was thoroughly honest.

Mr. Hill reported that Dr. Thompson had contracts with 1,500 theatres to show his pictures reaching 2,500,000 people each night.

PATHFINDERS DREW SPOTLIGHT IN NEWS

Every State in United States Carried Story on Trip to Victoria

Clippings from over thirty Washington newspapers and reports from other sources show the extensive publicity Victoria received through the recent trans-Canada tour for the gold medal awarded by the Victoria Canadian Highway Association. Hundreds of clippings from newspapers in every state of the United States have been received. Austin F. Bennett, vice-president and secretary of the Lincoln Highway Association, and one of the pathfinders, writes to Frank Gielma, who also tells Mr. Gielma that the handling of the publicity in connection with the trip was splendid. "I only hope that the interest the trip aroused in Canada may be beneficial in bringing about the early completion of the Fraser Canyon link," he writes from Detroit.

"I have been greatly surprised at the tremendous amount of publicity given the trip in this country," he says. "Returned to find hundreds of clippings from newspapers in every section of the union—and the publicity has really not yet begun, for we have not had an opportunity, as yet, of course, to prepare many articles I intend to write in regard to the trip, Canadian roads, the scenery of British Columbia, etc. I feel very of the public standpoint the undertaking was a tremendous success. The Canadian Highway Association, the Lincoln Highway Association, Western Canada and the car we used all received even more publicity than I had originally hoped for. I trust that what has appeared and what will continue to appear in American papers will react to the advantage of the Canadian Northwest. I will see that you get everything that we send out. I trust your own clipping bureau cover the United States and that you have been able, therefore, to gauge the amount of reading matter which has been devoted to the Canadian Highway situation and to your organization, to Victoria and to British Columbia."

"Will you send me a list of local date in regard to British Columbia. Victoria, expenditures for highway construction in the Province and in the Dominion, mileage of roads, etc. In fact all of that sort of data which I heard from time to time from the various speakers and from conversation with individuals but which my memory unfortunately does not retain. I would appreciate it very much and be able to put it to good use. I believe you are the proper source to go to for this data, which will aid in making my articles more authoritative."

Clippings from the trip from the following Washington papers have been received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau: Poulbro Record, Everett Herald, Reardon Gazette, Fairfield Standard, St. John's Journal, Carleton Place Enterprise, Orling Oracle, Hunter's Messenger, Port Orchard Independent, Lind Leader, Penticton Index, Entente Times, Granite Falls Record, Coquille Times, Isohel Sentinel, Garfield Enterprise, Creston News, Alameda Outlook, Atlatla News-Tribune, Kelso News, Sumas Advocate, New Richmond Herald, Marysville Globe, Sumas Herald, American Standard, Wallula Gateway, White Bluff Spokesman.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS MEET

The monthly luncheon meeting of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters Association was held on Monday in Spencer's private dining-room.

The business session was presided over by Col. Lorne Ross. The entertainment of the meeting was under the care of the staff of the North American Life whose efforts contributed largely to an enjoyable meeting. The address of serious thought and contribution to the great idea of life insurance was by Sam Drake, guest of the Association. Mr. Drake spoke as a business man of the value of life insurance and how in multitudes of cases it has eased the hard lot of widows and orphans. Among other things he showed conclusively that life insurance gave a man a better standing in the business world and increased his credit to a great extent. Considering time as an element in life insurance, he said thirty years seemed very short indeed. And during those swift passing years life insurance could be doing its good work.

SUGGEST MAKING PUBLICITY GRANT ELECTION ISSUE

Mill on the Dollar Levy For Advertising Victoria Proposed

A levy of one mill on the dollar to provide a sum amounting approximately to $45,000 for the Victoria Publicity Bureau instead of a grant from the City Council each year, was suggested by David Leeming at a meeting of the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

After discussing the proposal, the group decided to recommend to the council of directors of the Chamber of Commerce that next year's council be asked to make the levy and that the matter be brought forward in time for it to become an issue in the forthcoming municipal elections.

A FAIR CHARGE

The $20,000 grant the city now made, supplemented with two or three thousand extra under certain conditions was totally inadequate Mr. Leeming declared. In 1923 license dues which the city received amounted to $85,000. Last year they will total $100,000. This he claimed was sufficient grounds for recommending that the City Council recommend a mill in the dollar for publicity purposes. It was unfair, he contended to hit the license holder both ways and a mill tax would make a fair charge on the whole of the city. "As you increase the money spent for publicity purposes you increase the benefits to the city. With double and treble the returns. Every dollar spent brings a hundred dollars back. The tourist business takes many merchants over nine months of the year."

Good results could be obtained from advertising campaign in the Orient, Mr. Leeming asserted. There were many people there who spent a three-months vacation abroad every year. "When publicity brings results why limit the dollars?"

C. P. Hill, chairman of the group, declared Victoria had not one pound of advertising matter where it should have a thousand. It was swamped under an avalanche of publicity from other cities appealing for the tourist business. "Victoria has more to offer than any other place in the world," he said. "There is no place to equal it. It is not a question of localism. It is a question for the whole island. We should get together and show a beacon that will guide people to come and live in the finest climate in the world."

CITY WINS APPEAL IN WATERWORKS SUIT

Third Lawsuit Ends Again in Verdict For City

Victoria has won its appeal to the Court of Appeal in connection with the most recent lawsuit with regard to the Westholme Lumber Company versus the Corporation, arising out of the Sooke Waterworks Construction. Ernest Temple, as liquidator of the company, brought a suit against the city, and its engineer, W. W. Bell, seeking a mandatory order to compel the defendants to proceed to a determination of the questions arising out of the contract made between the Westholme Lumber Company and the City of Victoria, an undertaking was given by counsel for the city of the appointment of an independent engineer, and Mr. Bell was selected.

Litigation took place in 1919 to determine the responsibility for this undertaking being given effect, and was before the Court of Appeal. This application, which was renewed in a different form in the present year, after lengthy correspondence in which W. J. Taylor, K.C., was pressing the city to start Mr. Bell on the work, has again gone to their Lordships for decision. The Court of Appeal has allowed the appeal of the defendant appellants.
